Laura is an Associate in the Family and Divorce Practice Group at Harry Elias Partnership LLP.

Prior to joining Harry Elias Partnership LLP, Laura gained five years of experience in both litigation and advisory work. She first practised at a boutique law firm specialising in family and criminal law before serving as legal counsel at the Central Provident Fund Board.

Passionate about giving back, Laura has been actively involved in pro bono work since her student days and was awarded the State Courts Young Volunteer of the Year Award in 2013 for her contributions. Beyond her legal practice, she has also volunteered with CDAC since 2018, tutoring students one-on-one every Saturday.

Laura graduated from Singapore Management University in 2016 and was admitted as an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Singapore in 2017. She is fluent in English, Mandarin, and Cantonese and is frequently entrusted with translating legal documents and interpreting for clients.
